Learning to Fly:
A Festival of the Arts and Sciences
Shared Reading Contest Winner Exhibit
9 am-5 pm, Weekdays,
UW CCE Gallery, Free
This year’s campus shared read is The Geography of Bliss: One Grump’s Search for the Happiest Places in the World (2008) in which longtime National Public Radio foreign correspondent Eric Weiner flies across the globe seeking the most cheerful place on earth. Visiting such places as the Netherlands, Switzerland, Bhutan, Qatar and Great Britain, Weiner uses wry humor to offer observations on how various cultures conceive of happiness. This exhibit will display UWMC winners (Emma Coenen and Brooke Buckli) and select entries to a poetry and visual arts contest that asks students to reflect on the question: “Where would you fly?”

Larry Shue’s
The Foreigner
Thurs-Sat 7:30 pm, Sun 2 pm, UW CCE Theater
General-$15
Seniors/Students-$12
UWMC Students-Free
This 1985 comedy was written by Wisconsin-born Larry Shue and focuses on Charlie, played by Darby Kilkelly, a shy British man worried for his hospitalized wife whom he discloses has had 23 extra-marital affairs. During this two-act play Charlie is brought to a fishing lodge by his friend Froggy, played by Sam Ohnesorge. Scared by the jovial innkeeper Betty, played by Deb Raatz, Charlie considers fleeing. Avoiding all interaction, the others become convinced Charlie does not speak English and they speak freely of plans to turn the lodge into a base for their Ku Klux Klan operations.

Hmong Student Night
6 pm, Terrace Room

The objective of Hmong Student Night is to give Hmong students on campus an opportunity to express and relate their college experience to their parents. The panel consists of 13 UW-Marathon County students as well as a special guest speaker, Bor Za Xiong, who will be emphasizing the importance of education in the Hmong community. It is our hope that this event will give the parents and students a more cohesiveness of supporting and strengthening our students’ education. Parents will have a chance to ask questions during our student panel discussion. Snacks and beverages will be provided and everyone is welcome to join. For any questions contact Maa Vue at mrc@uwc.edu or Vang Her at vang.her@uwc.edu.
